This is a follow up meeting from Autumn Term, to complete the work on Worry Boxes

- Young Governors were introduced to the Worry Monsters
- A letter from the monsters was shared with the children explaining how they would work

Dear Gomer Young Governors

Hello! We are your worry eaters. Are you in a bad mood? Afraid of spiders? Do you have troubles you want to share?

Whatever is bothering you – put your worries on a piece of paper and feed them to me. Zip me up – and together we will get through this.

An adult will see my zip is up and know that somebody has a worry that they would like to talk about.

- The young governors then prepared how they would introduce the worry monsters to their class.
